

BRACE: Phil Grundy

It's all smiles now for Phil the model

Phil Grundy from Brighton has landed a spot in a new TV advertising campaign for Gillette following some rapid dental work.

Mr Grundy, 25, spent three months wearing an almost invisible brace recommended by top dentist Bob Khanna.

The treatment, which he got with the help of a Healthy Discounts plan, left him with a perfect straight smile.

The model was quickly snapped up for the new campaign, which will launch over the coming weeks.

Mr Grundy said: “I always felt self-conscious about my bottom teeth, and felt I needed to address this in particular because of my career as a model.

“I certainly couldn't face a year-long treatment or train-track teeth. I'm delighted with how fast the brace worked and thrilled with my new smile.”
